

One Dead, Five Hurt, As 2 Cars Collide On Rainy, Foggy Road

Louis Edsall, 70, Driver of One of Vehicles, Dies in Hospital Shortly after Accident at Stone Ridge.

WEATHER BLAMED

Investigation Reveals Heavy Rain and Dense Fog Dimmed Vision of Drivers.

Six people were injured in a two car crash at the junction of the Stone Ridge-High Falls road and the Kingston-Ellenville road about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, one of them fatally, bringing to 34 Ulster county's death list from motor car accidents since January first. Louis Edsall of 108 Center street, Ellenville, aged about 70, died at the Benedictine Hospital shortly after 10:30 o'clock last evening from a badly fractured skull. His condition on admission to the hospital had been pronounced serious by Dr. Eugene F. Galvin, who was summoned to the scene of the crash and rendered first aid. Mr. Edsall was the driver of one of the cars involved.

Albert Traver, 27, of Accord, driver of the Oldsmobile which collided with the Buick sedan of Mr. Edsall, suffered injuries about the chest.

Mrs. Emma Edsall, 65, riding with her husband in the front seat of the car, sustained several fractured ribs and severe injuries to the left side of her face and a fractured vertebrae.

Adam J. Farr, 31, a brother of Mrs. Edsall, who was riding in the rear of the car, received a fractured vertebrae.

All three occupants of the Edsall car were treated at the scene by Dr. Galvin and Dr. Saul Ritchie and were brought to the Benedictine Hospital by the Conner Ambulance Service where Dr. William J. Cranston also treated the injured.

Others in Car

In the Oldsmobile of Traver beside the driver, who was discharged after being treated at the hospital, were Eugene Schoonmaker, 27, of Kerhonkson, who was cut behind the ear, cut on the left hand, suffered broken nose and numerous bruises, and John Coffey, 21, of Kerhonkson, who received a severe cut on the head and bruises. He was not brought to the hospital but was treated at the scene by Dr. Galvin. A brother of Traver brought the occupants of the Traver car to the hospital.

According to an investigation made by Deputy Sheriff Arthur Brown who was summoned to the scene, the Traver car was proceeding toward Kingston from Kerhonkson and the Edsall car was entering the Kingston-Ellenville highway from the High Falls road. Edsall was about to drive on in the direction of Ellenville. At the same time there was a heavy fog and it was raining. The crash took place at the intersection as Edsall was leaving the High Falls road to proceed along route 209.

Traver told the officer that he was driving along the main highway when he suddenly saw the car loom up ahead of him in the fog. The Edsall car was struck on its left side by the driver's seat and the door was torn off. The Traver car was damaged about the right side indicating that it had met the other car from that side. The Edsall car was turned almost completely around and the Traver car ran across the road and came to rest against the steps of the Frank Bishop place which is at the intersection.

Traver is a shovel operator employed by William Anderson of Accord. Coffey is employed by the Dravo Construction Company, contractors on the New York city water project.

State Troopers Reilly and Merritt were also notified of the accident and went to the scene to assist in the investigation.

Autopsy Ordered

An autopsy was ordered performed upon the body of Edsall last night by District Attorney Cleon B. Murray. The autopsy was being performed today by Drs. J. S. Taylor and Dr. Galvin. Coroner Lester DuBois of New Paltz was also notified of the accident and death of Mr. Edsall.

No charge was made by the investigating officers against Traver following the crash.

Lewis N. Edsall of Ellenville, who died at the Benedictine Hospital last night as the result of injuries sustained Monday afternoon in an automobile accident at the junction of Route 209 and the High Falls turn-off, was a native and life-long resident of Ellenville. He was a son of Lewis Sears Edsall and his wife Elizabeth Brown Edsall and passed his 71st birthday but a week or so ago.

The early part of his life was spent in boating on the D. & H. Canal and for years he was in charge of a boat for Hunt & Donaldson's Merchants & Tanners

"SENTRIES" IN BLUE LAW PROTEST

Staging a comic opera protest against enforcement of "blue laws," some dating as far back as 1770, Francis Clark (left) and Daniel Thompson of Bellows Falls, Vt., carried muskets to church as required by an old statute providing protection for women from prowling redskins. A group of irate citizens mockingly demanded enforcement of all the blue laws after a theatre manager was arrested for running movies on Sunday.

Judge Cahill Has Named His Clerk And City Marshal

City Judge-elect Matthew V. Cahill, who assumes his duties on January 1, today announced that he had appointed John Melville as city marshal, and Miss Leona N. Van Demark, of 211 Hurley avenue, as clerk of the city court. They will assume their new duties the first of the year.

Mr. Melville for the past few years has been serving as sanitary inspector of the Board of Health, and during these years has proven a most efficient official. Mr. Melville's work as sanitary inspector has brought him into close contact with the business life of Kingston, and during all those years there has not been a complaint made to the board that he did not thoroughly investigate. It is expected that later in the month at the annual meeting of the health board that a successor to Mr. Melville will be named.

Miss Van De Mark for the last 10 years has been a confidential secretary to A. B. Shufeldt, president of the Universal Road Machinery Company. She is well equipped to handle the duties of clerk to the city judge.

Wilson Appointment

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—It was reported today in diplomatic circles that Hugh R. Wilson, assistant secretary of state, soon will be appointed ambassador to Germany to replace William E. Dodd, who is expected to resign. State Department officials declined to discuss the report.

DuPont Offers 2-to-10 Year Plan to Create Jobs For 3 Millions

Three-fold Program Could Eliminate Poverty and Unemployment by Investing 25 Billions, He Tells Manufacturers.

NO CRITICISM

No Time for Port Mortems, He Says—"Staggering Job but Not Impossible."

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—A two-to-ten-year plan to create 3,000,000 new jobs through planned investment of $25,000,000,000 by private industry was proposed today by Lamont du Pont, president of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., in an address at the National Association of Manufacturers' convention.

Du Pont pictured bringing about a new era with eventual elimination of poverty and unemployment, through this three-fold program:

"Development and popularization of new products."

"Vastly broadening the market for existing products through lowering their cost."

"Maintaining a rule of fair return for all effort, not excepting capital effort."

Industry can put this plan into effect, he said, if given a "fair opportunity" through a three-fold governmental pledge covering these points:

"Stabilization of tax rates over a definite period."

"Stabilization of fair laboring conditions over a definite period."

Immediate stabilization of the "legal rules" under which business must operate, subject only to "unmistakable public demand" for amendment.

He said the actual rate of taxes, or the actual scale of wages or hours, were not as important as stabilization.

Criticizing "Nobility" Du Pont was emphatic in saying he was not a "Nobility" for past difficulties.

"What has been done, wisely or unwisely, is behind us," he said. "Let us leave it there. It is no time for port mortems."

While he suggested no detailed plans for a $25,000,000,000 financing program, a task he described as "staggering," comparable to the government's world-war financing which was managed by co-operation of all agencies, du Pont, whose financial ability is respected in Wall Street, said "it is neither hopeless nor impossible."

He began his address by conceding that "the purchasing power of a part of our population is too low," that "some parts of our agriculture are disorganized," but said it was industry alone which could increase the nation's purchasing power, and that industry and science are "agriculture's greatest hope."

Pointing out that conditions in the United States are generally better than those in many other countries, he finds it not surprising "that the bulk of responsibility for future social betterment should be placed on industry's shoulders."

"And, belonging there," he continued, "and industry accepts that responsibility."

Great Planning Needed But "new jobs, new wealth, farm prosperity, cannot be picked like dreams and theories out of the air," he said. "They can be produced only through planned research, planned development, and sales, administrative and other facilities, which means at every step, the planned expenditure of capital months and years in advance of a penny of return. And this must be intelligent planning."

The largest industries, the smallest merchant, he explained, must gauge the future in operating their business.

"Obviously, then, when the future is uncertain, business is uncertain," he said.

Missing Executive Reported Kidnaped

It was reported that Arthur Fried (above), 32-year-old New York business executive, who disappeared from his White Plains, N. Y., home had been kidnaped and held for a high ransom which was reported fixed at $100,000. Members of Fried's family denied the reports, expressing the belief that he had taken "a drink too many," or that he might have quarreled with a member of the family.

8 Awards Made in Lackawack Dam Claims by Group

Eight additional awards are made in the second separate report of Delaware, Section 6, condemnation commission appointed to hear claims arising out of the taking of lands for the construction of New York city's largest water works project which is now taking form along the upper Rondout creek at Lackawack. The commissioners are Messrs. Graham, Aronowitz and Planagan.

The eight awards which have just been made will be moved for confirmation at some future time before the Supreme Court at special term. Whether the city and claimants will agree on the awards or whether there will be objection to some of the awards either by the city or the claimants is not known at the present time.

Eight Awards

Awards just made by the commission after hearings and the making of voluminous testimony are:

Parcel No. 1231, Basil A. Smith, claimant. Award $5,150. Frederick Hammer with Hon. George F. Kaufman of council for claimant and Henry R. Bright and John E. Egan for the City of New York.

Supervisors Hear Special Reports Monday Evening

Several reports were received by the Board of Supervisors Monday evening and routine matters came before the board. Reports of several special committees were received and recommendations contained in the reports were adopted. The board adjourned until Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A supplemental report was made by the Committee on Grand Jurors. The committee recommended that the names of the 300 grand jurors as submitted by the various supervisors of the county be placed on the grand jury roll for the ensuing year and that a copy of the roll be certified to the county clerk. The report was received and later the board voted to accept the recommendations.

The committee on election commissioners reported bills amounting to $563.75 and recommended that the bills be paid. Carried. A report was also made by the Committee on TB Hospital and Laboratory. Bills amounting to $367.23 were read and ordered paid.

The committee on printing supervisors proceedings also made its report. There were two bids submitted, one by C. M. Thomas Sons for $3.10 per page and one by The Freeman Publishing Company for $3.08 per page. On motion of the committee on printing proceedings the contract was awarded to The Freeman Publishing Company for $3.08 per page.

To Suspend Rule

An indication that the annual session is drawing to a close was a motion by Supervisor Wadlin of Lloyd who gave notice that he would move at some future meeting to suspend Rule 6, Section 7, so that resolutions calling for an appropriation may be voted upon the same evening offered.

A report of the committee on printing was made. Bills amounting to $22,893.49 were reported and allowed and a motion was passed assessing and making a levy in that amount to pay claims.

Supervisor Sutton of Plattekill offered a resolution that there be assessed and levied on that town the sum of $2,085.56 to pay certificate of indebtedness and interest issued for WPA purposes. Over under rule.

Supervisor Snyder of Saugerties moved that there be assessed and levied on the town the sum of $1,720.06 to pay certificate issued for public welfare purposes. Over under rule. Also the sum of $910.63 for WPA certificate and interest. Over under rule.

DESERTED ARMY TO SEEK MOTHER

Army officers pondered the fate of Private Paul Crawley (above), 20, who left his regiment in San Francisco without leave to seek his mother, Mrs. Henry L. Rosenfeld, Jr., the former Thais Valdemar of the screen, from whom he had been separated since childhood. His mother, reunited with him after he surrendered because of failure to find her, is seeking to have him readjusted in the army.

Dr. Eames Dies in Manhattan, Was Noted as Scholar

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—A man whose formal education never carried him beyond grammar school died yesterday, the holder of degrees from three universities and known throughout the world for his scholarly achievements.

He was Dr. Wilberforce Eames, 82, chief bibliographer of the New York public library.

Dr. Eames lived in a house so crisscrossed with books that concrete props were necessary to keep the floors from collapse. His research among dusty tomes unearthed so many valuable historical facts that he won the nickname of "The Sherlock Holmes of Literary Detectives." He was an authority on languages of the North American Indian, and could read Japanese and Chinese, and many of the Bantu dialects of Africa.

All this knowledge traced back to the day when, a 12-year-old boy, he borrowed six volumes of Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." Impressed by the hundreds of references, he copied every title and set out to read them. Each book led to others until his knowledge earned him the tribute of Dr. Harry Miller Lydenberg, director of the New York public library.

"He knew more about books and more kinds of books than any of his contemporaries ever knew or expect to know. His knowledge was comprehensive, accurate, final."

Brown, Harvard and Michigan conferred honorary degrees upon him.

No Longer Tongue-tied Montreal, Dec. 7 (Canadian Press)—Three-year-old Jeannine Carriere of St. Jerome, Que., is no longer "tongue-tied." Her tongue encircled by a gold ring, for more than a week, she was taken to a hospital here and a file was used to remove the object.

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—If the police have their way about it, some 15,000 motorists are going to find parking space elsewhere than mid-town Manhattan's curbs.

Orders went out yesterday to clear the congested area between Fourteenth and Fifty-sixth streets and Second and Eighth avenues. There will be warnings for three weeks, or thereabouts, and after that, summonses.

In some of the cross-town streets, all parking will be banned; in others parking will be limited to one side; in a few—a very few—parking on both sides will be permitted.

The mayor's traffic committee also went after the truck problem, asking department store executives and other regular recipients of large shipments to revise schedules so that deliveries may be made in the "dead" hours of midnight to 5 a. m.

Tokyo, Dec. 7 (AP)—Tokyo was in a state of ecstatic frenzy today, awaiting the fall of Nanking.

"Nevertheless, it was generally believed that the capture of Nanking would not mean the end of the war. Japanese thought Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek would concentrate his forces in Hunan Province and attempt to continue fighting with some sort of aid from Soviet Russia."

The Japanese government was said to be considering issuance of a declaration withdrawing Japanese recognition of the Nanking government.

Celebration of Nanking's imminent fall started last night. Police relaxed closing laws and the downtown district of Tokyo glowed with gaiety. Crowds milled through the streets. Cafes and restaurants were jammed until well past midnight.

Kai-Shek and Madame Chiang Leave Beleaguered City by Plane—90 Planes Reported to Have Raided City.

TOKYO'S ECSTASY

Japanese Capital Ablaze with Gaiety—Million Children to Parade for Emperor.

By MORRIS J. HARRIS

Shanghai, Dec. 7 (AP)—Advances columns of Japanese troops assailed Nanking's historic walls tonight.

Japanese officers who announced the attack said a spearhead of the invaders was attempting to climb the city's massive battlements with scaling ladders—a maneuver handed down through the middle ages.

Gates of the apparently doomed city were closed. Chinese had started a final stand which seemed destined to fail.

Japanese asserted that their main forces had not yet reached the city but added that they were "progressing satisfactorily and according to schedule."

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, China's leader, had left Nanking, Chinese advisers disclosed. He and Madame Chiang, head of China's air force, were said to have departed by airplane for Nanchang, capital of the interior province of Kuangsi. The government evacuated two weeks ago.

Meager foreign dispatches from Nanking confirmed Japanese reports that Nippon's warplanes had pounded the city with bombs. These advances, however, did not mention the extent of casualties or damage.

90 Planes in Raid

Japanese had asserted that 90 planes raided the city in the most intensive bombardment of the war thus far.

The raids apparently were aimed at military objectives in the city's environs. Japanese claimed their air force had struck at towns and cities of the lower Yangtze valley as far as Anking, deep in Anhui province, destroying airfields, aircraft, and military equipment.

Blocking Japanese warships from an attack on Nanking, remained intact. Japanese previously had reported its destruction.

Flares ranged in Nanking, throwing up columns of smoke which correspondents said could be seen for miles.

(The last dispatch from Nanking, sent at 6 p. m. yesterday, said eight Americans had boarded the gunboat Panay for safety but that 17 remained inside the city.

Gates Closed

(Later reports from outside the city said its gates had been closed, cutting off all chance for refugees to depart. It was not known whether the 17 Americans still were within the isolated city. Foreigners in Nanking had made housing and feeding arrangements for a neutral zone they had asked both Japanese and Chinese to respect, without such assurance from either side.

(Telephone communication with Wuhu 69 miles upstream was either cut or taken over by the Chinese army. Japanese air attacks on Pukow across the Yangtze from Nanking blocked any chance of escape by the railway to the north.)

Great Britain protested against the bombardment of Wuhu Sunday in which two British merchant ships and a British gunboat were damaged.

The Japanese spokesman at Shanghai said a raid on a hotel in the international settlement yesterday was not "in defiance" of the settlement's police powers.

He explained that Japanese military police staged the raid, in which four Chinese were arrested and later released, because of urgent military requirements. The Chinese were suspected of "activities" against the safety of Japanese forces.

Nation's News in Brief

Lost Bookkeeper Found

Pickneyville, Ill., Dec. 7 (AP)—Lawrence Lee, 28, mine bookkeeper lost in the Briar Hill workings since Sunday morning, was found today at the bottom of the air shaft of an adjoining mine, into which he had wandered in the darkness.

State Mine Inspector Leonard Forester said Lee was "pretty fagged out" and had been put immediately to bed at his home.

"Human Clocks" Studied

Chicago, Dec. 7 (AP)—Two "human clocks" were listed at the Hines Hospital today for diagnosis.

Charles W. Hester, 43-year-old Oklahoman, was the first to seek a cure at the hospital for a tickling in the head. Yesterday Mrs. Josephine Kaumanns of Chicago sought aid for the same affliction.

Hester said his head began tickling after a shell exploded near him during the World War. Mrs.

Kaumanns, a widow with four children, told physicians a tickling audible to persons several feet away began in her head last March while she was using a telephone.

Professor Dies of Wound Chicago, Dec. 7 (AP)—Stuart Putnam Meach, 40, associated professor of finance at the University of Chicago and author of books on banking, was found shot and critically wounded today in his hotel apartment. A small caliber pistol, with one bullet discharged, was at his side.

His wife, Maxine, said her husband had been in ill health for several years.

JURY FINDS MRS. ANNA PERRY NOT GUILTY OF ASSAULT

The trial of Mrs. Anna Perry, of East Kingston, charged with assault in the third degree, was held before Justice Walter Weber at Lake Katrine last night, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty. Mrs. Perry was represented by William Kaecher and Frank Camprochiaro appeared for the state. Mrs. Perry was arrested on November 10 by Trooper Walter Keefe, but due to his absence because of illness Deputy Sheriff Nagy, of East Kingston, took charge of that part of the proceedings at the trial last night.

Gonzalez Was Fined $10
Gonzalez Dawson, arraigned before Justice John Watzka at East Kingston last night on a public intoxication charge, was given a fine of $10. The fine was paid.

Public Health Relief Nursing Will Continue

Continuation of the statewide public health nursing work relief project, through which over three million visits have already been made, is assured by a recent allocation of $210,298 federal funds for payment of wages to the personnel.

This was announced today by Lester W. Herzog, New York State Works Progress administrator, under whose direction the project has been operated since being taken over from the WPA. Sponsored and supervised by the New York State Department of Health, the services of the nurses, the great majority of whom are from relief rolls, are available to families on the home relief rolls of the state and those in the low income brackets in need of health assistance.

Dr. H. Jackson Davis, WPA medical consultant and assistant director of local health administration of the State Department of Health, is in direct charge of the project which was inaugurated back in 1933 after a sickness census conducted in several communities by staff nurses of the State Health Department showed but one locality where bedside nursing care for the needy was provided.

A large number of registered nurses was also found either unemployed or partially employed, the average annual earnings of all nurses reporting being less than $400. The project, which has given work to an average force of 500 women during 1937, 1938 and 1939, has now dropped to personnel average of 250.

In the opinion of Dr. Davis, the reduction in working forces resulted from many of the nurses gaining private or public employment and the enlarged public health work being carried on by the state and local communities. An increase from 1,500 to 1,700 engaged in public health work by private and public agencies has been noted during the past three years.

Duties of Nurse
The duties of the relief nurses under this community nursing project have been outlined by Dr. Davis in a pamphlet issued by the New York State WPA, which is free for the asking. Following is an outline of the work in the order of precedence:

Bedside nursing care, including assistance to physicians in the home, in the delivery of babies, in care of acute illness, et cetera, to supplement existing community service.

Professional advice in homes, at the request of welfare officials, particularly in relation to special health problems such as diets for children, care of pregnant women, and chronic illness.

Sift out doubtful calls to be certain that no person in need of medical service fails to receive it and at the same time to see that needless medical calls are eliminated.

Health instructions in homes, to interpret instructions regarding budgets, diets, cod liver oil as a protective food, pre-natal hygiene, care for immunization and arrangement for correction of defects, where indicated and feasible.

Supplement the work of existing community agencies such as outpatient clinics and health consultants as part of the public health work of the community.

TRUCK WRECKS BRIDGE; DRIVER ONLY BRUISED

When a 14-ton truck snapped off the end post of a 120-foot bridge near Frankfurt, Ind. the span collapsed like a house of cards, twisting beams and girders and creating the scene of general confusion shown above. Although the bridge was wrecked, the truck driver only sustained bruises.

U. S. Tax Board Rules Out Major Part of Mellon Case

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—The United States Board of Tax Appeals overruled today a major portion of the government's $3,075,103 tax claim against the late Andrew W. Mellon.

The decision said "Petitioner (Mellon) did not file a false and fraudulent return with intention to evade taxes."

The board ruled for Mellon on six out of 10 principal points, compromised a seventh point, and ruled for the government on the other three.

The decision, which discussed only the legal interpretation of a score of issues, gave no figures on what tax deficiency, if any, the estate of the former secretary of the treasury will have to pay.

Mellon's lawyers, however, won a deduction for the cost of five priceless paintings which Mellon gave to his charitable and educational trusts and which have since been donated to the federal government.

The Mellon estate now is building a National Museum of Art in Washington to house more than 50 famous paintings the ex-cabinet officer gave to the government before his death last summer at the age of 82.

Most of the other issues in the dispute about Mellon's 1931 taxes dealt with securities transactions for which Mellon claimed exemptions.

Can Be Contested
The tax board's decision, which can be contested in the courts either by the treasury or the Mellon estate, makes another step in litigation which has been pending since March 23, 1934.

The government filed the tax claim with the contention that Mellon's gross income in 1931 was $13,482,660 whereas he had listed a gross income of $6,758,797 in making his tax return.

Points of dispute were whether his deductions for losses in sales of stock of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, Western Public Service Company and other companies were allowable, and whether he should be allowed to make deductions for the gift of paintings to the A. W. Mellon Charitable and Educational Trust.

The government contended an additional $2,050,068 was due and also claimed a 50 per cent penalty, bringing the total to $3,075,103.

In a counter claim Mellon said he was entitled to a $139,000 rebate on the $647,000 tax he paid for 1931.

Prior to bringing the tax claim, the government sought unsuccessfully to indict the Pittsburgh financier for criminal violation of the income tax laws.

A Pittsburgh grand jury refused, however, after five hours of deliberation to return an indictment.

Mellon hailed the grand jury's action at the time, as "vindication." He had denounced the government's charges as "political persecution."

4-H CLUB NEWS

Achievement Day
The District Achievement Day for the Lake Katrine, Flatbush and Sawkill 4-H Clubs will be held at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall, tonight at 7:45 o'clock.

The program will include awarding of the achievement pins given by the New York State Bankers' Association to those who have completed their years' work and leadership pins given by the Kingston Kiwanis Club to the leaders whose clubs have completed 70 per cent. Members of different clubs will tell of the clubs' activities during the year and Robert Morehouse, Ulster county's delegate to National Club Congress, Chicago, will tell of his interesting and educational trip.

Grangers, parents and friends are invited to this meeting.

The Lake Katrine Grange will hold its regular meeting after the 4-H Club program.

In five years the number of short-wave radio sets in use in the woods and mountains of the United States National Forests has increased from 390 to 2,300.

Bar Association Meeting a Success

A regular dinner meeting of the members of the Ulster County Bar Association was held Monday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel at which time various matters of interest to the attorneys was discussed. So successful was the meeting that the members voted to hold regular monthly meetings in the future and Assistant District Attorney N. LeVan Haver was named a committee of one to make arrangements with the Ulster County Medical Society for a joint meeting with the association at some future time.

The medical society holds regular meetings and the members of the association get much benefit from the assemblies. Members of the bar association expressed a belief that their association too might benefit from such regular meetings.

A committee was appointed by George P. Kaufman, president of the bar association, to study proposals to be submitted to the constitutional convention which meets next spring. This committee will report its proposals back to the bar association at some future time where the proposals will be discussed and recommendations made to the local members of the bar association as to the desirability of adoption of the proposals by the convention. On the committee was named Harry H. Flemming, G. D. B. Hasbrouck, A. J. Cook, Arthur B. Ewig and Cleon B. Murray.

Another committee was named to consult with the resident Supreme Court justice with regard to the establishment of an Equity calendar for Ulster county. This committee will report back to the association is N. LeVan Haver, Joseph M. Fowler and Peter H. Harp.

President Kaufman also appointed a committee to prepare resolutions upon the death of J. DePuy Hasbrouck and Grant M. Brininger and present such resolutions to the Supreme Court at the January term. That committee is Lloyd R. LeFevre, G. D. B. Hasbrouck and David Schenck.

Monticello Masons Dramatize Degree At Rondout Lodge

One of the largest gatherings of Master Masons in this city in some time assembled in the lodge rooms of Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. & A. M., in the Masonic Building, Broadway and Strand, on Monday evening to watch the widely known degree team of Monticello Lodge, No. 572, of Monticello, dramatize the second section of the Master Mason degree on a class of candidates.

Thirty-three members of the Monticello lodge made the trip to Kingston that evening in a chartered bus. The advance notice of the work done by the Monticello Masons had told of the great demand made for their services by other Masonic lodges to the south of Ulster county, and that the reports of the fine work did not adequately express the finished work given by the Monticello Masons was amply demonstrated last evening.

For the majority of the Master Masons in attendance last evening it was the first time that they had seen the work so dramatized. It was both solemn and impressive and each member of the degree team proved himself an accomplished actor and portrayed the parts assigned him in manner that reflected great credit upon the lodge he represented.

Following the dramatization of the work of the Monticello Masons were given a rushing vote of thanks for the exceptionally fine work. At the close of the lodge the refreshment committee served a roast beef luncheon and a solid hour followed.

certain," he said. "Today industry is blanketed by a fog of uncertainty."

"Uncertainty rules the tax situation, the labor situation, the monetary situation, and practically every legal condition under which industry must operate."

"Strikes, broken contracts, wars within labor's own ranks, the constant threat of sweeping new laws, have reduced industrial planning to the category of a gamble."

"Stabilization of fair conditions over a definite period may be more important event than the details of wage rates and hours or the precise form of labor organization."

"Business needs more than a breathing spell from legislative experimentation. It needs positive, reliable assurance that the complicated terms and conditions under which it must function are finally determined, subject only to an unmistakable public demand for their amendment. As it is, the business man is the subject of more legislative concern than the criminal."

"The criminal laws are stabilized."

Your Intestines WANT to Be Regular

If your intestines could talk, they'd tell you that common constipation comes from NEGLECT. Modern meals too often omit Nature's "regulators"—the laxative parts of wheat.

You can avoid common constipation by eating Kellogg's All-Brans.

All-Brans does TWO things. First, it gives you "bulk." It absorbs water and softens like a sponge—this water-softened mass aids elimination. And second, Vitamin "B"—the vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract and promotes a healthy movement.

Kellogg's All-Brans is a crunchy, toasted cereal. Eat it with milk or cream and fruit—or in cooking. But however you eat it, use it REGULARLY. Eat two tablespoons of All-Brans and drink plenty of water. If you do this every day you can avoid common constipation—and cathartics, too! Every grocer sells All-Brans. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

DARE TO DREAM

BY ALICE MARIE DODGE

Chapter One

'Name And Telephone Number, Please'

WHEN Nelda Barrie noticed that the gas indicator was flirting with the zero mark, she turned her green roadster toward a service station a few yards ahead.

"Here goes my last dollar," she said to herself. "Well, everything's shot to pieces for me, so what's the difference?"

The attendant had just put the nozzle of the gasoline hose into the tank when a car chugged noisily into the station behind him. The brakes screeched as if in pain, but they didn't hold. Nelda was jolted hard as the car hit her back bumper.

"Hey!" yelled the attendant. "You made me spill gas all over!"

Nelda saw in old sedan that had a fit-for-the-junk-heap air about it. Two young men were in the front seat. Instantly she was struck by the great contrast of their clothes. The man behind the wheel was shabbily dressed while the other's attire bore the sheen that money and position give. Both leaped out and hurried to the side of her roadster.

"I'm terribly sorry!" the well-dressed one explained. "Did it frighten you?"

"No, I'm used to jolts," she returned, noting that his hair was blond and curly.

"You see Bill's brakes—it's his car—are on the loose."

He used it now. "I quit by invitation."

"You don't mean—expelled?"

"How'd you guess?"

"Oh... I'm sorry!"

"Don't be. I think it's a grand break."

There was no mistaking the delight in his tone. Nelda thought fleetingly about the irony of life. Here was she agonizing because a college education was snatched away from her, and this young man was gloating over the fact that he was put out of school.

After a few remarks back and forth they found that they had a number of acquaintances in common.

tion about a year ago. I've met him only a couple of times. Queer bird."

"He didn't like it because you ditched him."

"I merely thumbed a ride from him. You see my car was smashed up."

"Speeding?" she cut in.

"Exactly." He laughed as he would at a huge joke. "That's why I was invited to leave college."

"Aren't you going to some other college?"

He made a sound of contempt.

"I should say not! Dad has enough money to sink a ship, so—"

'I Take No Man's Dust'

"Oh! A rich man and doesn't care who knows it!" she flashed, her glance taking in his expertly tailored dark suit, his smart white shirt and blue tie, his light felt hat. At that moment she hated money as much as she longed for it.

"I wasn't bragging," he returned easily. "Really." He took out a gold cigarette case. "Smoke?"

"I don't."

"Somebody fan me! What's the reason? Too young?"

"I just don't go in for it—that's all."

"Now don't tell me you haven't any vices!" he cried in mock horror, turning his head to examine her critically.

"I've been too busy concentrating on a career to acquire any."

Nelda's heart was racing. This was adventure, excitement... perhaps romance.

The young man referred to as Bill got in his word then.

"I want to apologize," he said, his tone full of contrition and embarrassment.

"That's all right," she hastened to assure him.

Strangely, his whole appearance became etched clearly on her mind. His face and hands were stamped with the brown tint that comes from days spent in the outdoors. It was a sensitive face with high cheekbones. His blue eyes had in them an expression that suggested he'd been hurt by life in some way. His cheap gray suit failed to conceal the youthful, rippling strength of his limbs. There was force in this man, Nelda thought.

He seemed to be cataloging her, too. Most men looked lingeringly at Nelda Barrie. Her mouth was red and full. When she spoke, or smiled, it was as though a vivid flower had come to life. A trace of Spanish blood in her ancestry had given her a mop of silken black hair that was confined in two knots at the nape of her neck, a pair of dark eyes that now gazed out from under an innocent-looking, but devastating, off-the-face black felt hat. Her slim young body was clad in a wine-colored jersey suit that clung to every perfect outline.

Her eyes met Bill's. Evidently becoming aware that he was staring at her, he looked away sharply. She saw color sweep up into his cheeks under the tan and realized there was a shyness about him that was different from the boys of her acquaintance.

"I don't need any oil," she said to the attendant who was lifting the hood of her car. In her voice was that husky sweetness which was also her heritage from her Castilian forebears. Bill's gaze shot back to her as if motivated by some uncontrollable electric current.

The other young man leaned on the door of the roadster. Somehow he gave the impression of pushing Bill out of the picture.

"Haven't I seen you at Stanford?" he asked Nelda, his brown eyes lighting.

A Kindred Soul

"POSSIBLY," she smiled. Meeting some one from college was like meeting a kindred soul on a desert island.

"Playing hooky?" He put his foot upon the running board.

"No, I've quit school."

"So have I!" He had a sunny

"Where do you live?" he asked.

"Near Watsonville. On the old Estrada Rancho."

"Move over! I'm going with you!" he announced blithely.

"But—"

The protest came from Bill. Before he could finish the blond young man interrupted:

"I'll ride with you some other time, Bill." He waved his hand in careless dismissal.

"But—" began Nelda.

"You go right by my home," he broke in. "The old Warren ranch."

"I'm not familiar with that part of the country," she said slowly, deliberating whether or not to let this brazen, though utterly engaging, chap ride with her. But her heart was racing. This was adventure... excitement... perhaps romance. It made her forget for the moment the problems that awaited her at home.

"I'll be delighted to show you around the country," he said and climbed in beside her.

She glanced at the man called Bill. Again their eyes met. In his, so blue, so electric, she read disapproval. Disapproval for what, she asked herself. For picking up with a strange man? He wasn't strange. Hadn't he said he had been at Stanford, too?

She tossed her head under its wisp of a hat and her dark eyes defiantly challenged Bill's blue ones for a brief second. Then she turned to the attendant.

"How much?" she asked, speaking briskly and reaching for her purse.

"Wait a minute! I'm going to take care of that!" her self-invited passenger exclaimed, thrusting a $10 bill at the man.

"Not!" she protested.

"It's my fare for the buggy ride."

"I prefer to pay for it myself," Nelda asserted with a great show of pride and took from her purse the silver dollar which was all that remained after she'd settled her bill at her sorority house.

"Well—" Her passenger shrugged and put the currency back into his wallet.

The green roadster left the station, scattering bits of gravel in its wake. Nelda glanced back, despite a strong resolve not to, and saw Bill standing beside his old car, looking after them, tense and bitter-looking.

"Who was that man?" burst from her.

"What man—oh, you mean Bill Langdon, her passenger answered. "He moved into our sec-

"Ah! A career woman! What line?"

"Commercial art. But that's all out now." Her tone was frankly unhappy, but, absorbed in his own thoughts, he seemed not to notice.

"I don't think a girl is interesting unless she has a vice or two," he went on lightly.

Nelda slowed the car.

"Want to get out?"

He gave her an admiring glance and said, "You know I think you're swell people without the vices. Name and telephone number, please."

"Nelda Barrie is the name. What's yours?"

"Just call me Reck."

"What does that stand for? Reckless?"

"That's it. I was christened Earl Reckless, but I hate Earl for a name. No one ever calls me that now except Mother and Dad."

"I imagine that Reck suits you better."

"You said it!" He gave her a wicked grin and cupped his ear with his hand. "What did you say about that telephone number?"

"We haven't a telephone."

"Listen!" he jeered. "I've been stalled by experts."

"We really haven't a phone."

She looked away from him, faint color in her cheeks. "Can't afford one—if you must know."

A car, passing with a great clatter, drowned out the rest of his sentence.

"Why, that's the man you were with!" Nelda exclaimed. "That—Bill person?"

"Can you beat that?" exclaimed Reck. "He must have given that old ark all its gas!"

"Well—" Nelda set her lips grimly and jammed the gas throttle against the floor board so hard that the roadster gave a wild lunge and sped along like a frightened rabbit.

"What's the idea?" Reck demanded.

"I take no man's dust."

"A gas girl!" Reck applauded.

As they flew past Bill's old car Nelda caught a glimpse of his profile which was set and stern. Somehow she couldn't help wishing he wasn't so tall, so vital, so bitter-looking, so—

"I believe that Bill person's got you in his eye," Reck said.

"Don't be silly," she admonished and felt a blush steal from her neck to her temples.

SANTA WHITE FOX

by SIGRID ARNE

THE STORY SO FAR: Santa suspects that Helga, a doll, has been slipping out at midnight to ski with a white fox. So he asks the tin soldiers to stand guard around her at night.

CHAPTER EIGHT

THE GUARD

Helga pulled her blue silk comfort up over her yellow curls when she saw the tin soldier set a guard around her bed.

"My gracious," she said to herself, "how will I ever get out to ski with the white fox? Santa must know." She shivered but she found enough courage to put her head out and ask the soldier captain:

"Please may I go out with the fox tonight? You know how much the shining fields of snow and the wild wind and the dark night ski mean to me. I must go."

The captain looked embarrassed and said: "Please don't think I told Santa. And please don't be angry, but I am here to keep the fox away tonight."

"Dear, dear," said Helga. The clock struck 10. Then it struck 11.

"Just an hour," whispered Helga. Then the clock struck midnight. There sat the white fox on the window sill his pointed ears outlined in the moonlight.

"What's this?" he whispered through the crack at the bottom of

The soldier captain saw too late what had happened. The white fox had fooled them all. The captain ordered his men to follow, but they ran so slowly that the white fox and Helga were soon out of sight.

"Oh, dear, what will Santa say?" said the poor, little captain.

Tomorrow: The Fox's Den.

'Give Us This Day' Backstage Rulers

In the production of "Give Us This Day" which the Ulster County Theatre Association will offer at the Kingston High School on Thursday, at 8:30 p. m. the stage manager will be George Betz, veteran stage manager of many amateur performances in Kingston. He will be assisted by Dorothy Stewart, Irving Rose and Leo Herbert.

The Ulster County Theatre Association was founded largely through the efforts of Rudolph Frederick Fiolic and group which he assembled at a meeting in the Municipal Auditorium last summer.

The association plans to obtain a permanent building of some sort in which it may establish the first permanent Ulster county little theatre group.

The association hopes to produce plays dealing with life in communities such as Kingston or many others in Ulster county.

Final arrangements have been made for incorporation and special measures have been taken in order to begin the foundations for a campaign to either rent or otherwise acquire a building, once the premier presentation has been completed, which will be the association's first bow to Ulster county audiences.

"By Gad", You're a Salesman!

When the train pulls in and you grab your grip.

And the cab's there, all ready to go.

And you call on your man and try to be gay.

And all you get is: "Nothing doing today."

Then you're a peddler! By gad, you're a peddler!

When you get into town and call on your man,

"Can't you see me, Bill?" Why sure I can.

You size up his stock—make a rough count.

And Bill presently says: "Send us the usual amount!"

Then you're an Order Taker! By gad, you're an Order Taker!

When you travel along and everything's fine,

And you don't get up until half past nine;

When you see each concern and talk conditions,

And write it all home with many additions—

Then you're a Traveling Man! By gad, you're a Traveling Man!

When you call on the trade and they talk "Hard Times"

"Lower Prices" and "Decided Declines".

But your talk and your smiles make the world look bright

And send in your order every night—

Then you're a Salesman. By gad, you're a Salesman!

Wife—Here's a riddle. What makes my life so miserable?

Hubby—You've got me!

Wife—That's right!

Read it or not—Florida has a coast line of 3,751 miles.

Mother came home half an hour sooner than she was expected and found daughter Dorothy with a young man in the parlor:

Mother (moaning, as she packed Dorothy off to bed)—I don't know what your poor father would have said if he had been alive. (Turning to the young man) And now, come into the parlor again, and I'll talk to you.

Half an hour later Dorothy heard her mother calling:

Mother—You can come down now, Dorothy, and congratulate your new father!

Regarding the matter and due to the fact that up to this moment your order we've lacked. We hope that you will not delay it unduly. And we beg to remain, yours very truly.

Uncle George—So this is the baby, eh? I used to look just like him at that age. What's he crying about now?

Little Niece—Oh, Uncle George, he heard what you said!

Money may talk, but some folks seem never to have taught theirs to utter anything but dissipation and nonsense.

Two young brothers were arguing. Said the elder:

Elder Brother (to elench what he had been saying)—I ought to know. Don't I go to school, stupid?

Younger Brother—Yes, and you come home stupid.

Love may make the world go 'round—but so does a bad case of indigestion.

Port Ewen Hunters Bring Home Four Pike County Deer

Four handsome buck deer attracted attention at Spinnenweber's, Port Ewen, over the week-end. They were testimonials to the prowess of four Port Ewen hunters—Roscoe V. Elsworth, James Flynn, Earl Kinn and Fred Spinnenweber—who returned Saturday from a week's hunting trip in Pike county, Pa.

The party hunted in the Pocono mountains, under the able guidance of Bill McGregory, famous Pike county guide and sportsman.

The deer season in Pike county opened November 29 and closes next Saturday. Pike county is one of the famous deer sections, but Mr. Elsworth says that although they had good luck hunters were finding deer comparatively scarce this year. This is said to be due to the fact that there is a plentiful supply of acorns this year and the animals are back in the heavy timber.

Radio Forumat "Y" Thursday

"How Can Government and Business Work Together" will be the subject of discussion at the Kingston Radio Forum at the Y. M. C. A. under the leadership of Chairman Jansen Fowler. Preceding the radio broadcast from the "America's Town Meeting of the Air," the discussion group will give its versions on the subject. The public is invited.

Wendell L. Wilkie, utilities magnate, and Robert E. Jackson, assistant United States attorney and one of the leading administration lawyers, who occupy front ranking positions in the present government-business controversy, will air their opinions in a joint discussion before "America's Town Meeting of the Air" audience Thursday evening at 9:30 o'clock over the nation-wide Blue Network of the National Broadcasting Company.

The discussion, due to the high importance of the government-business front, is expected to present to millions of Town Meeting listeners the most complete picture, so far, of the problem that has stirred all America to all for immediate solution.

Mr. Wilkie, besides being an outstanding leader of the utilities and power interests, is president of the Commonwealth and Southern Corporation, one of the nation's greatest power companies. It was he who, in a recent conference with President Roosevelt, advanced a series of compromise proposals aimed at an administration-utilities "peace pact."

Mr. Jackson heads the anti-trust division of the department of justice and was recently re-elected to be conferring with the chief executive on the possibility of revising the anti-trust laws to tighten Federal control of monopolies.

Both Wilkie and Jackson will have 15 minutes in which to present their answers to the question, "How Can Government and Business Work Together?" formal topic of the discussion. Following the addresses, 150 members of the audience in the Y. M. C. A. Town Hall, scene of the broadcast, will question the speakers for the remainder of the hour.

"America's Town Meeting of the Air" is under the auspices of the League for Political Education in cooperation with the National Broadcasting Company. George V. Denny, Jr., director of Town Hall, president moderator.

Baptist Preacher At Phoenicia

REV. W. H. ROGERS, D. D., a Bible conference and spiritual retreat starts tonight at the Baptist Church in Phoenicia, and continues Wednesday and Thursday, with services in the evening at 7:10 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. William H. Rogers, D. D., of New York City. The topics will be "Essentials of Spiritual Victory," "The Church the Body and Blood of Christ," "The Second Coming of Christ." A cordial welcome is extended to all by the pastor, the Rev. F. H. Bailey.

Veterans' Night At Commandery

In recognition of their long years of membership and their continued support, Roundout Commandery No. 52, Knights Templar, will hold a Veterans' Night Conclave in the Asylum, 280 Wall street, Wednesday evening. All members who have a record of 25 years or over have been invited to participate. A delicious turkey dinner will be served to all members of the commandery at 6:30 o'clock in the dining room. A large number of the knights are expected to be on hand to welcome those who have served so long and faithfully.

As a special feature of the evening will be Sir Charles Grosch, eminent grand captain general of the Grand Commandery of the State of New York. He will bring a special message to all the knights assembled. All the members whether they have a uniform or not are urged to be present.

Plans are going forward rapidly for the 125th Annual Conclave of the Grand Commandery to be held in Kingston, June 12, 13, 14, 1938.

Line, coming from Ellenville to New York City. He had a wide acquaintance, not only in his home town, but in the territory traversed by the old canal and had many friends who were shocked to hear of his death Monday night.

Following the close of the canal, Mr. Edsell took over the old established grocery store business at the corner of Canal and Main streets, Ellenville, which he conducted for some 20 years or more, his brother, the late George D. Edsell, joining him in the business later.

He was known in Kingston, having on different occasions assisted in the management of the store on lower Wall street of which Mrs. Jennie Patterson was the proprietor.

Mr. Edsell was a former trustee of the village of Ellenville and also served as collector of the town of Wawarsing. He was a member of the Ellenville Methodist Church and of its official board, a life member of Wawarsing Lodge No. 582, F. & A. M., and for many years had been identified with Awosting Lodge No. 208, K. of P.

He is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Emma Farr of Cragmoor and who also was injured in the accident in which Mr. Edsell met his death. Two sisters and a brother also survive—Elizabeth, wife of Fred J. Frear of Ellenville, and Royal D. Edsell of Pelham Manor.

Funeral arrangements had not yet been made this morning, but services will probably be held at the late home, 108 Central street, Ellenville, on Thursday.

Says New York Farmers Are Not Favoring Control

C. C. Dumond of Ulster Park, president of the Ulster County Farm Bureau and one of the directors of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation is one of the four delegates from New York state to the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation to be held in Chicago Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Mr. Dumond expects to leave for Chicago Sunday night.

Mr. Dumond says that one of the important questions to be discussed at the Chicago meeting will be the matter of compulsory crop control. He states that the New York delegates, representing some 40,000 farmers, are opposed to control of crops by the government and he understands that New Jersey, Ohio and Maryland sentiment is also against compulsory control. All states having Farm Bureau organizations are represented in the American Federation, which means that most of the states will be represented at the coming meeting.

Rafalowsky Is Ready with His 9th Annual Sale
H. G. Rafalowsky, who has been established in the men's wear business in Kingston for the last 25 years, is now running his annual sale.

For the last nine years his practice has been to run a "Once-a-year" sale. By so doing, and with months of preparation, and with the cooperation of his manufacturers, he can give his customers greater values than by running his sales often.

Extra sales help has been added, and as usual, the store is open until 9 p. m. The sale will continue for two weeks.

HOME BUREAU

Lecture Tuesday
Mrs. Blanche Hedrick from the Family Life Department at Cornell University, will give a lecture tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at 74 John street. This meeting is sponsored by the Home Bureau and is open to the public. The topic of Mrs. Hedrick's talk is "Cooperation in the Home." This meeting will be of special interest to parents, teachers and all those interested in education for home and family life.

Tuesday morning Mrs. Hedrick will meet with the leaders of child study and adult groups to discuss organization. This meeting will be held in the Home Bureau office at 10:30 o'clock.

Talk on Posture
Mrs. Helen Powell Smith, specialist from Cornell University, will return to Ulster county Wednesday, December 8, to conduct a training lesson for Ulster County Home Bureau leaders on posture and care of the feet. The meeting will be held from 10:30 to 11:30 at the county building, 74 John street. Ulster county homemakers requested that Mrs. Smith give exercises that will help in the building and maintenance of good posture. Feet, shoes and posture are closely related topics. Mrs. Smith will include instructions on the strengthening of the muscles of the feet and selection of shoes.

Hairdressers to Meet.
The regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County Hairdressers Association will be held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at Miss Walsh's Beauty Salon, 317 Wall street. Nomination and election of officers will take place.

DOG MUZZLES ITSELF IN IRON

Apparently, while chasing a rabbit, a German shepherd dog jammed its head into a six-inch iron pipe so tight that Oklahoma City firemen labored two hours before they could liberate the beast. Above is depicted the moment of rescue after a hacksaw and wedge had been brought into play.

Doughnut—With Interest

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Dec. 7 (AP)—Loss of a doughnut to grocer, W. H. Martin 30 years ago was like money in the bank—interest included. He read today an anonymous letter which contained $1 and said:

"This is to make right a doughnut I took from your counter more than 30 years ago."

5 Killed at Gloversville

Gloversville, N. Y., Dec. 7 (AP)—An explosion and fire that partially demolished a children's clothing shop left a toll of five dead today as officials sought the cause.

Fire Chief R. A. Maxson said the explosion apparently occurred while three men were removing a fuel oil tank from the cellar.

All three, Edward Hall, Minnie Darling and David Stewart were trapped in the basement and burned to death. Miss Mildred Engel, 34, co-proprietor of the store and the janitor, William B. Crispin, Jr., 30, died of burns.

The entire front of the one-story building was blown into the street.

Award for Moses

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Park Commissioner Robert Moses has the gold medal of the St. Nicholas Society as "the citizen who has done most for the City of New York in 1937."

"I don't see any reason why I should be congratulated or presented with an award for doing something I like to do," said Moses last night at the 103rd annual dinner of the society when his work in developing the city's park and playground system, was recognized.

The society of early New York families was founded in 1835 by Washington Irving.

Banks Must Pay

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 7 (AP)—Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., ruled today that savings banks in New York state must pay to the state comptroller all dividends and interests which have accrued on abandoned accounts.

He gave the opinion at the request of the state department of audit and control, which asked if the banking law provision referring to abandoned funds included interest and dividends.

City Sold Some 300 Properties For Unpaid Tax

Some 300 properties, mostly residential, were sold at public tax sale today at the city hall by City Treasurer C. Ray Everett.

The majority of the properties were bid in by the city when no one offered to purchase. The sale was attended by some 20 interested residents.

The property owners have two years in which to redeem the properties that were sold today at the tax sale. All of the properties offered for sale were sold for unpaid taxes.

Probably the largest property sold was the Hauck brewing plant on McEntee street, which was bid in for the amount of the taxes by Harold Gottfried. A new company has been recently organized to carry on the brewing business in the plant under the name of the Hauck Brewing Company.

For years before the Prohibition era the Hauck Brewing Company and its Red Monogram beer were widely known throughout Ulster county and the Hudson river valley. The new company plans to brew the same kind of beer that made the brewery famous years ago.

CLUSTER PARK W.C.T.U. DECEMBER MEETING

Cluster Park, Dec. 7.—The Ulster Park Woman's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. John Lynn in Port Ewen on Wednesday afternoon, December 1; 15 members and two visitors were present. Meeting in charge of the president opened by singing "America, the Beautiful." Mrs. Herring read a part of the 107 Psalm, and a prayer. "For Today" was read by Mrs. Page. Roll call followed, answered by a verse containing the word, "Thanks." The 23rd Psalm and a hymn of Thanksgiving were read by Mrs. B. T. Van Aken. Reading, "Find the Blessings That Abide," by Mrs. Tinnie. The state president's address was read by Mrs. Elsworth. Mrs. Cole, Miss Van Aken, Mrs. Wells, Miss Lynn, Mrs. S. T. Van Aken and Mrs. Wheeler singing, "Some Glad Day." The president's recommendations were read by Mrs. Herring. Discussion on programs for the coming year. Mrs. Herring reported a meeting of the executive committee at New Paltz, and a petition was circulated to restrict the hours that intoxicating beverages could be sold. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Letters of thanks from Mrs. Legg and Mrs. Palomus were read. The regular business of the union was taken up, and an invitation from Mrs. Tinnie to meet with her December 29 was accepted at which time a Christmas party and gift exchange will be held in connection with the regular meeting.

Meeting closed by singing "America" and repeating the Lord's Prayer.

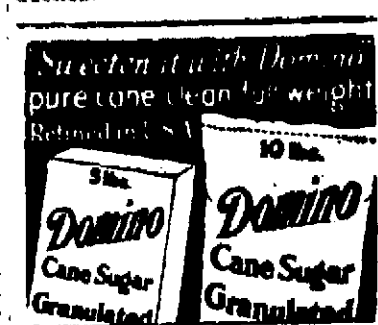

City Aldermen Are Planning to Form New Organization

Following the regular monthly meeting of the common council this evening in the city hall, the aldermen, both present and past, will adjourn to the Elks' Club, where a dinner will be served shortly after 10 o'clock and the Kingston Aldermanic Association, patterned along lines similar to the Ulster County Supervisors' Association, will be organized. All members of the council, both present and past, will be eligible to become members of the new organization. The name of the organization will also be decided upon.

Talk of organizing an aldermen's association has been in progress for several years and now has reached the point where it has been decided to take action. Among the invited guests are Mayor Heitsch, City Clerk E. J. Dompney, City Treasurer C. Ray Everett, City Assessor George Moore, all past members of the common council. There will also be other invited guests present at the meeting at the Elks' Club, including the newly elected aldermen who will serve in the 1938-39 council.

HOLLYWOOD—New peril for film troupes in African jungles is reported by Otto Brower, director of an expedition into the Tanganyika country for the film "Stanley and Livingstone."

"The native men buy and sell wives at a standard price of 90 goats or 10 cows for each woman," Brower related on his return. "Each man saves up his cows and goats until he gets enough to buy another wife."

So when the movie people, far from civilization, wanted to buy meat—for their own needs and to pay 2,500 natives who demanded food rather than money for "extra" work—they couldn't get it. Brower finally sent native runners with an appeal to the nearest British command post, got the cattle commandeered, and had the wife-hoarders reimbursed with cash and the promise to redeem the money in cattle later.

Cesar Romero tells it on himself: After a recent preview he was surrounded by autograph hunters. He had one girl's book and pencil in hand, poised to sign it, when the cry went up, "There's Clark Gable!" Suddenly Romero was standing alone, the book and pencil snatched from his hand, which was still poised as though to sign his name.

Robert Wilcox, who made his first successful screen test a year ago this Christmas, is marrying Joy Hodges on the same lucky day.

Bitten By Direction Bug

Fritz Feld, the character actor ("I Met Him in Paris," "True Confession," "The Yellow Nightingale"), has been trying to become a director for 20 years. Once Lubitsch, when managing director of production at Paramount, made Feld his editorial assistant. Feld took the job on condition he would be allowed to direct at the first opportunity. Lubitsch, agreeing if Feld would stop acting long enough to be considered a directing possibility. But Lubitsch married, honeymooned in Europe, and during his absence Feld was prevailed upon by Wesley Ruggles to take the Colbert film role. Since then it's been one acting assignment after another—but some day, he still insists, he will be a director.

'Give Us This Day' Preview a Success

Monday evening, a preview performance of "Give Us This Day," which the Uster County Theatre Association will present in the Kingston High School Auditorium on Thursday evening, took place at the Raymond Riordon School, at Highland.

Headmaster George O. Aykroyd expressed extreme satisfaction with the play. "The appreciative reception the drama received from the students of the school," said Mr. Aykroyd, "was an excellent indication of the wide range of its appeal."

Headmaster Aykroyd said: "A decided impetus toward the revival of interest in serious drama was foreshadowed in the success of a troupe performance of the current production of the Uster County Theatre Association 'Give Us This Day,' by Howard Koch, before the students and staff of the Raymond Riordon School, at Highland."

"A well knit plot, far from hackneyed, excellent acting, and perfect stage technique, blend the comic and serious into an artistic whole."

Tickets are on sale at the Y. M. C. A., where they may be reserved also for Thursday's performance.

Dravo Co. Must Pay Gross Tax

Washington, Dec. 6 (UP)—The Supreme Court ruled today in a 5 to 4 decision that a state may impose a gross income tax on money received by a contractor for building locks and dams for the federal government within a state.

This decision, delivered by Chief Justice Hughes, was on litigation involving an attempt by West Virginia to impose a gross income tax on money paid the Dravo Contracting Company of Pittsburgh.

The Dravo Corp. is active in Uster county at present executing contracts for the New York City Board of Water Supply at Lackawack and vicinity.

PREVIEWED

Today

Broadway: Second Honeymoon. The screen's ranking romantic team loves and fights its way to another box office triumph in this story of a couple of slightly young people who fall in and out of love with the regularity of the tides. As the title of the play suggests, the story centers around the efforts of a youthful couple to recapture the spark of a love somewhat chilled by constant association. This show is set to hand-some backgrounds with a sophisticated flair and a neat musical score adds to the film's enjoyment. Tyrone Power and Loretta Young continue to please as the stars of this matrimonial production and Claire Trevor, Stuart Erwin and Lyle Talbot lend able support. There is much comedy and much excitement in this 20th Century-Fox presentation.

Kingston: "Hot Water" and "Trapped by G-Men." The family life of the Jones family continues to be hectic in the first feature at the Kingston for this time Father Jones goes into town politics as he runs for the office of mayor and much happens in the way of excitement and scandal before the play's ending. Jed Proudy, Shirley Deane, Russell Gleason, Spring Byington and Kenneth Howell head the players. "Trapped by G-Men" tells how a brave government agent gets in touch with a gang of crooks in order to expose their leader and he is almost exterminated when the mobsters discover his identity. Jack Holt is starred in this one.

Orpheum: "Follow Your Heart" and "Affairs of Cappy Ricks." Marion Talley trails her way to her first motion picture success in the main feature at the Orpheum. The former metropolitan star has a plot fortified by good music and a capable singing partner in Michael Bartlett. "Affairs of Cappy Ricks" is the other attraction with Lyle Talbot and Mary Brian.

Tomorrow
Broadway: "It's Love I'm After." Two top rung screen performers make merry in the comedy at the Broadway, the light hearted story of an actor who makes love to a high society damsel and then changes his technique in order to be hated by the same party. Such a plot gives the talented Leslie Howard many opportunities to show his worth as a comedian and he does just that in a manner both entertaining and satirical. Some of the romantic scenes in the play are models of dramatic perfection and Bette Davis proves to be a valuable foil to Mr. Howard's ardor. This Warner Brothers picture is a distinct hit and will be enjoyed for its clever dialogue, its reckless romancing and the fine work of two of Hollywood's best players.

Kingston: "The Great Garrick" and "West of Shanghai." Garrick, the great English actor of the 18th century, is to be seen on the Kingston screen in the person of Brian Aherne and the story tells how Garrick's enemies try to frame him and make him look ridiculous in the eyes of the French people when he went to Paris for a theatrical engagement. How he turns the tables and wins the approval of the French is the plot basis of the picture. Others in the cast are Olivia DeHavilland, Edward Everett Horton, Linda Perry, Lionel Atwill and Etienne Girardot. "West of Shanghai" gives Boris Karloff an opportunity to make up as a grim oriental and the story is one of intrigue and violence in a locale near Shanghai.

FIRE ALARM BROUGHT HELP TO PINIONED WORKER
Peter Bellman, employed with the Foss & Douglas Co., Ellenville, was taken to the Veterans Memorial Hospital Saturday for treatment of injuries sustained when he was caught between two heavy radiators while working in the shop at the rear of the Ross & Douglas establishment. At the hospital this morning it was noted that his left leg was badly bruised, but no bones were broken and there were no internal injuries.

Apparently no one happened to be within hearing distance of the store when the accident happened, as Pete's cries for help were heard by a young woman of Liberty Street who turned in a fire alarm—and in a short time there was plenty of help.

Tip-ups Restricted in State

Kingston, Dec. 7.—The Conservation Department today made public an order governing the use of tip-ups, a form of ice fishing in use throughout the state. The terms of the order just issued, the regulations are now in effect. Commissioner Lithgow has advised all fishermen to acquaint themselves with the current regulations and that part of the Conservation Department governing the use of tip-ups, as Section 253.

The order permits the use of tip-ups on all bodies of water not used by trout with certain exceptions. Bullheads, catfish, perch, sunfish, pike, pickerel, and muskellunge may be taken from tip-ups this year to May 10. However, from March 2 to April 30, 1938, both inclusive, pike perch and muskellunge cannot be caught, and from March 2, 1938, to May 10, both dates inclusive, pike cannot be taken by this method.

Tip-ups must be marked with the name and address of the operator who shall be in attendance all the time the lines are in the water and he or she must have a fishing, hunting and trapping license or a special fishing license which is issued only to aliens or non-residents of New York. Not more than five tip-ups may be operated by any person at the same time. However, on Oneida and Chautauque Lakes tip-ups may be used at any time, operators do not have to be in attendance and up to 15 tip-ups may be operated. In Chautauque Lake, each tip-up shall not contain more than one hook baited with worms only. In water not lying wholly within this state operators also can use up to 15 tip-ups.

There are certain non-trout waters in Ulster county in which tip-ups cannot be used at any time. These are as follows:

Esopus Creek in town of Saugerties.

Ulster Lake (Cape Pond) in town of Wawarsing.

Cape Pond in town of Wawarsing.

Maratanza Lake in town of Wawarsing.

Awosting Lake in towns of Wawarsing and Rochester.

Campher Pond in town of Wawarsing.

Ramblin' Notes About the Town

"Do your Christmas shopping early, and do it in Kingston," said the street corner oracle today, as he stood and watched the shopping throng in the business sections. "Shopping out of town is a mistake," he continued, "for it should not be forgotten that money spent in Kingston is circulated in Kingston. And another item it would be well not to overlook is the fact that Kingston's stores are well stocked and merchandise is selling at as low a price as consistent with quality."

"All you have to do," he continued, "is to shop around in the stores and you will find that you can buy anything you need for Christmas gifts right here at home instead of spending bus or carfare to go to another city."

Do your Christmas shopping early and do it in Kingston. If every one adopted that slogan business would increase and there would be more money to spend in Kingston.

They were talking over President Roosevelt's plan for a federal housing program the other day, and one man raised the question of where one could obtain the money to build a new house when the program is inaugurated. According to his view of the situation the ones who would like to build a new home are the ones who have no regular job, or else the job they have is not paying a sufficient amount to finance a new home.

The average man would like to own his own home, but before he can even contemplate that step he must be in a position where he realizes that he has a steady job at a living wage. When a man has steady work at good wages he is more apt to be ready to take on the added responsibility of paying for a new home.

And getting back to Christmas again and the question on nearly every one's tongue is "What would you like for Christmas?"

A few gifts that would be appropriate this holiday season are: Another low tax rate for every property owner in the city.

Promises of locating an important industry that will employ men at living wages for the Mayor's Industrial Committee.

Plenty of contributions of toys, money and other things needed for the Christmas Cheer Committee.

A steady job for everyone who needs a job.

Twenty years ago the ice was so heavy in the Rondout creek that the steam yacht "Saugerties" suspended round trips between Rondout and Eddyville.

This winter the creek has not even been frozen over from shore to shore.

The above is an item taken from the Twenty and Ten Years Ago column in The Freeman. What a change there has been in the past twenty years.

Today there is no steam yacht to be found plying the waters of the Rondout creek.

A quarter of a century ago there were a number of steam yachts plying between Rondout and south as far as Poughkeepsie and north to Saugerties while in the Rondout creek regular trips were made between here and Eddyville.

Then came the advent of the auto bus, and the auto routes extending from Kingston to all sections of the county. As auto busses increased in power and efficiency the steam yacht declined and finally they have become just a memory.

Today only the oldtimers recall the days of the steam yacht era. These little yachts did a thriving business carrying passengers and freight on the river and creek until they were supplanted by faster means of conveyance.

During the day time they ran on regular schedule to ports of call and in the evening extra money was earned by owners and crew by chartering the yacht to some organization who planned to run a moonlight sail to Poughkeepsie or up the river as far as Saugerties.

With the passing of the steam yacht era passed also the moonlight sail and the young folks of today do not realize what they have missed. If you should say that to them, however, they would doubtfully reply would be that they should worry. "All we want is Dad's car for the night and some spending money and we go places."

TRINITY WOMEN HOLD COVERED DISH LUNCHEON

The members of the Missionary Societies of Trinity M. E. Church are holding a covered dish luncheon in the church parlors on Wednesday, December 8, at 12 noon.

After the luncheon Mrs. Walter Tremper and Mrs. Clarence Wolfersting will present a program of Christmas carols. The ladies also will pack a box to be sent to a mission in Puerto Rico.

All members of the church and congregation are invited to attend the luncheon and meeting.

Injured in Crash On So. Boulevard

Lawrence J. Kelder of West Shokan was taken to the Benedictine Hospital Saturday night, suffering from a broken leg and lacerations and bruises sustained when his car left the road and crashed into a tree.

The accident happened on a turn on the South Boulevard as Kelder was returning to New York city after visiting his mother at West Shokan.

Held for Intoxication.

Gonzle Dawson, 35, colored, of Goldrick's Landing, was held at the Ulster county jail over the week-end pending a hearing to night before Justice John Watzka of East Kingston on a charge of public intoxication. Gonzle was arrested at East Kingston by Deputy Sheriff Pierce.

Sack Speaks on Social Security

Allan Sack, connected with the Kingston Office of the Social Security Board, spoke on the subject of "Changes in American Life and the Needs for Social Security," last night before the Bricklayers, Plasterers and Masons International Union, Local No. 14, of which Robert Kennedy is the president, at the court room in the city hall.

Mr. Sack touched on the changes which occurred during the last few generations which turned America from a rural to an urban country, and that this change brought insecurity to many. He said that such a large percentage of the people are faced with the hazard of unemployment and dependent old-age, that the Social Security Act helps to meet these hazards in a sensible way, by providing for old-age and unemployment insurance to cover these risks.

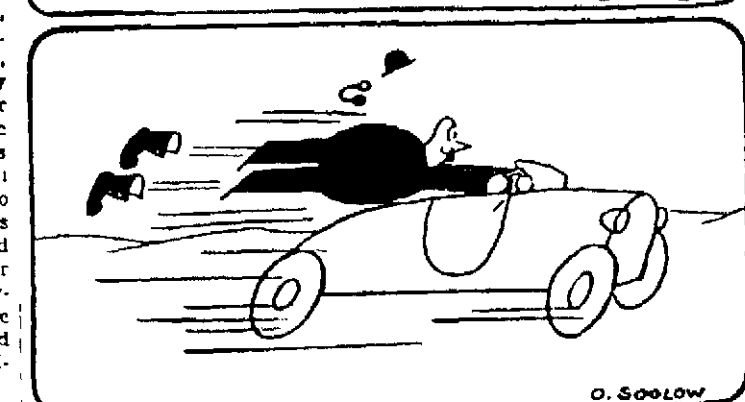

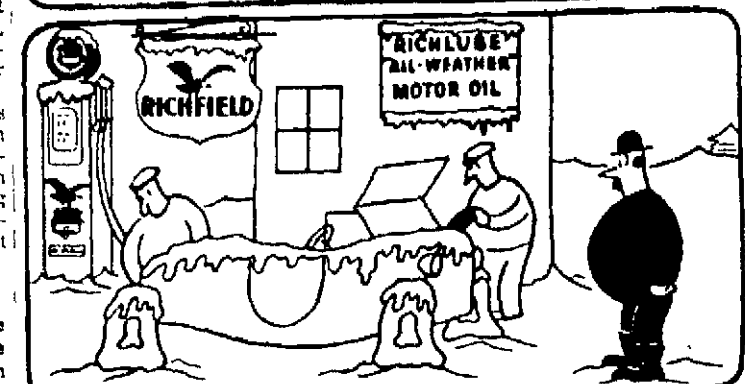

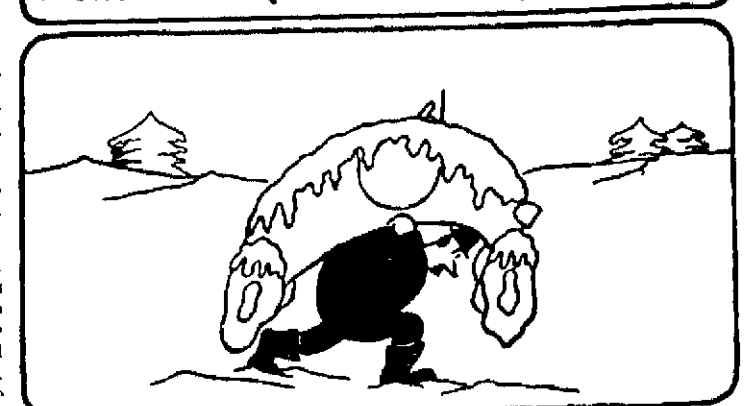

In the pioneer days, families depended on themselves and on their immediate neighbors. Today with most of the population in big cities, problems affecting the security of America have become national in scope, and must be met on a national scale.

Order of the Garter
The Order of the Garter is the highest order of knighthood in the world. It is believed to have been instituted by Edward III about 1348, says London Answers Magazine. The story goes that, at a court ball, the Countess of Salisbury of that day slipped her garter. To cover her confusion, the king picked up the pretty thing, bound it round his own leg, and said: "Honi soit qui mal y pense" (Evil be to him who evil thinks of this). This afterwards became the motto of the order and of the crown of England. The Order of the Garter is limited to the sovereign and other members of the royal family, with 25 knights and such foreign royalties as may be admitted.

Chayotes—gandules—yautias—breadfruit!—ever tasted them? You can now, if you seek out the right markets, for Puerto Rico is shipping these tropical delicacies to "the mother country"—which is the United States.

Saugerties Man Inherits
New York, Dec. 6 (Special)—John Ott of 109 Market street, Saugerties, is listed as a beneficiary in the will of his sister, the late Mary Walker, filed for probate today in Surrogates Court. He is left five forty-ninths of the residue. Mrs. Walker died October 21, leaving property estimated at "less than $16,000." Other beneficiaries are Mrs. Lena Crawford and Miss Louisa Ott of New York, sisters, and nieces and nephews. Arthur C. Clapp is named executor.

Nine Reasons Why Newspapers Ask Advertisers for "Early Copy"

THE ADVERTISER IS UNFAIR TO HIMSELF WHEN HE HABITUALLY SENDS HIS DISPLAY ADVERTISING COPY TO THE NEWSPAPER OFFICE ON THE DAY THE AD IS TO BE PRINTED

WHAT EARLY COPY MEANS

- 1—Good Position
- 2—No Errors
- 3—Time for Correction
- 4—Good Typography
- 5—Prompt Delivery to Reader
- 6—Fair to Mechanical Staff
- 7—Advertisement Well Written
- 8—Advertisement Inserted
- 9—Overhead Normal

WHAT LATE COPY MEANS

- 1—Risk of Poor Position
- 2—Risk of Typographical Errors
- 3—No Opportunity for Corrections
- 4—Risk of Poor Typography
- 5—Risk of Late Delivery
- 6—Unfair Physical Strain
- 7—Advertisement Hurriedly Written
- 8—Risk of Omission
- 9—Often Cause of Rate Increase

While a newspaper is a marvel of mechanical efficiency, there are limits on what can be done by a given force of printers, stereotypers, pressmen and mailers in a short crowded period of stress.

There is plenty of time to give every advertiser good service every day in the week when early copy is sent in. But to set every advertisement in the last minute of rush is impossible, even with a force five times as large.

The Freeman believes that its advertisers desire to be fair to the printers, stereotypers, pressmen and mailers who serve them so well as to be fair to themselves.

All Display Advertising Copy should be in the Freeman Office at least 24 hours before publication. Larger ads and those to be inserted on rush days should be received at least 48 hours in advance.

Junior D.A.R. Holds Christmas Meetings

The junior group of Wilkes-Barre, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its Christmas meeting on Monday evening at the chapter house. The room was decorated with the Christmas tree and the members placed their gifts under it.

The business meeting of the group was held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Johnson, president. The group will meet next week with Mrs. Clarence L. Dumm at her home on Mountain View avenue.

Lowell Club Holds Meeting
A meeting of the Lowell Literary Club was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. S. Conklin on Johnston avenue. A sketch on Gerhart Hauptmann and Ferenc Molnar was given by Mrs. Frederick Snyder. This was followed by a sketch given by Miss L. M. Quimby of "D'Aquino".

The paper of the afternoon was read by Mrs. Robert B. Nelson, who discussed the "Daughter of Jorio." The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Rose K. Witter on Fair street.

Card Party at St. Peter's Hall
A card party will be held at St. Peter's School Hall Wednesday afternoon, December 8, at 2:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Club Hears of African Jungle
At the home of Miss Anna McCullough Monday evening, members of the Olympian Club heard of the jungle of Africa. The single folk were described by Miss Winifred Sullivan, and the snows and swamps were discussed by Miss Anna M. Decker. Miss Lucy Healy gave a reading which dealt with the method and hardships of transporting a navy through the jungles in war times. The club will meet to continue its study of Africa on December 20 at the home of Miss Decker on Lafayette avenue.

Wynkoop Guild Re-elects Slate
The members of the Henrietta Wynkoop Guild of the First Dutch Church held an enjoyable annual meeting Monday evening in the form of a supper meeting. At the supper, which was served by Miss Lucy Berryman, covers were laid for 60. The following slate of officers was re-elected for the coming year: Mrs. William A. Frey, president; Mrs. Ward J. Galsbe, vice president; Mrs. Clifford Rose, secretary; and Mrs. James Scott, treasurer. During the social hour Mrs. Charles Doty and Mrs. Ben Johnston favored with vocal solos, Miss Sarah W. Hasbrouck gave a poetry reading, and the entire group joined in the singing of favorite songs and carols in keeping with the yuletide spirit.

Becker-Fellows
The wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Fellows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Fellows of Saugerties, and John Charles Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Becker, of Waterloo, took place Saturday afternoon, December 4, in the Baptist Church. The pastor, the Rev. H. O. Ellsworth, performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an empire gown of white broadcloth and a veil of embroidered illusion with a pleated fan at the back and a coronet of pearls. Her bouquet was of white roses, chrysanthemums, gardenias and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean Fellows, who wore a princess gown of emerald green moire taffeta and rhinestone Juliet cap and gold slippers. She carried a bouquet of golden yellow chrysanthemums. The groom was attended by James G. Huff, of Waterloo. Ushers were Donald N. Van Valkenburgh of Rochester and Newton R. Myers of Saugerties, both cousins of the bride. Clarke Maynard presided at the organ during the ceremony. A reception at the home of the bride's parents was held for some 60 guests. The couple will spend two weeks in Florida and upon their return will reside in Waterloo where the groom is in the insurance business.

Rev. W. J. McVey Accepts Call to First Presbyterian
The Rev. William J. McVey, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Freedom Plains, has accepted the call extended him to become pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, subject to the approval of the Presbytery of North River at its meeting scheduled for January 10.

The Rev. Mr. McVey met in Kingston Monday evening with the trustees and elders of the uptown church, and at that time stated he would accept the call that had been unanimously extended him to become pastor, and it is expected that he will assume the pastorate of the church on January 16.

Wednesday evening, December 15, the Rev. Mr. McVey will meet with the members of his church at Freedom Plains to arrange for asking the Presbytery at his January meeting to dissolve the pastoral relations between him and the church.

The uptown church has been without the services of a pastor since the resignation of the Rev. Goodrich Gates. Until the church has a regular pastor the Rev. Wilbur E. Stowe, former pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, has been filling the pulpit of the church and will continue to serve until the Rev. Mr. McVey assumes the pastorate.

LET FORTUNE-TELLING HELP YOU TO HAVE MORE FUN THIS WINTER

Easy to Learn What the Cards Mean

Who can resist having his fortune told? Nobody. And there's a simple, sensible way to tell fortunes and make your own. To make your own more interesting, tell it to a friend. And there's a simple, sensible way to tell fortunes and make your own. To make your own more interesting, tell it to a friend.

spin a lively tale of love and luck over the cards and teacups. One of the most exciting and easiest ways to tell card fortunes is the Seraphina.

First pick your court card according to sex and coloring. If you're a blonde girl you're a Queen of Diamonds and that card stands for YOU.

Then shuffle the deck, cut 3 times. Make a fan of the cards and with your left hand, select 8, no two adjoining. Group these around your court card as the diagram shows. Number 1 is your immediate future, 2, the present, 3, 4 and 5, the past; 6, 7 and 8, the distant future.

Suppose the Number 1 card is a 10 of Hearts. That means you'll have no more beaux soon. If Number 2 is a 9 of Diamonds, a fine gift's on the way. If Number 3 is a 3 of Spades, some time in the future you'll weep some more, my lady.

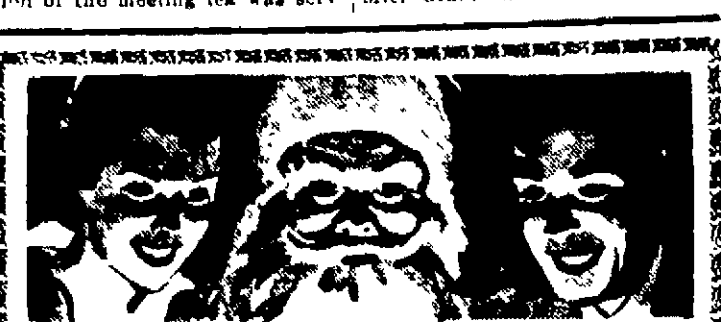

At a party make a hit by fortune-telling stunts. Simple but fun is Pencil Points. Set the crowd to sharpening pencils, then by the points tell their personality secrets. Extra long point—extravagant. Long lead but no point—emotional.

Do tea leaves fascinate you? If you see a birdlike group of leaves near the cup handle, good news is coming.

If you've an open fire, watch for signs in the embers. A ring means an engagement's in the air. From our 40-page booklet, LET ME TELL YOUR FORTUNE, you can quickly learn many fascinating ways to tell fortunes. Cards, tea leaves, dreams, numbers. Old gypsy secrets. Endless entertainment for you and your friends.

Send 15c for our booklet, LET ME TELL YOUR FORTUNE, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Relieve Their Misery This Proved Way

WHEN your child comes down with a cold, you can't afford to take needless risks. Use the treatment that has been doubly proved for you—Vicks VapoRub. It has been proved by everyday use in more homes than any other preparation of its kind—further proved by the largest clinical tests ever made on colds. (Full details every VapoRub package.) Only Vicks give you proof like this.

Vicks VapoRub is direct external treatment. There's no dosing—no risk of poisoning, no risk of disturbing digestion. VapoRub can be used freely, often as needed, even on the youngest child.

You simply massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back (as illustrated). Then—to make its long-continued double action last even longer—spread a thick layer on the chest and cover with a warm cloth.

No Long Waiting for Relief to begin... Almost before you finish rubbing, the youngster begins to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub goes to work direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time its medicated vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break up local congestion. And long after the little one relaxes into restful sleep, VapoRub keeps right on working—hour after hour. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

"For creamy uncooked frostings—Jack Frost Confectioners XXXX Sugar!"

UNCOOKED ORNAMENTAL FROSTING (Covers two 9-inch layers)

4 egg whites
4 cups sifted Jack Frost Confectioners XXXX Sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract or other flavoring

1. Beat egg whites until very stiff.
2. Slowly add Jack Frost Confectioners XXXX Sugar, beating constantly until frosting will hold its shape and is of good spreading consistency. The fineness of Jack Frost Confectioners XXXX Sugar is what makes this frosting so smooth and creamy. (If large egg whites are used, a little more sugar may be needed.)
3. Add salt and vanilla. Spread on cooled cake with a light swirling motion.
4. For a holiday cake, sprinkle chopped nuts and chopped candied cherries on the frosting between and bolly layers and decorate the top with cherries and bolly leaves cut from citron.
5. This frosting is as easy to use in a pastry tube or bag as it is to spread with a knife. Decorate with candied cherries.

Marys, Port Ewen Win and Make 4-Way Church League Tie

City League

A four way tie for first place in the Church Basketball League resulted Monday night on the Y. M. C. A. court when St. Mary's trounced the Comforters 32-13 and Port Ewen defeated the Clinton Avenue Aces 14-8. In the other contest the Redeemer won their initial victory at the expense of the First Dutch 44-34.

Minus Rhymmer and Dyke, who are on the sick list, the Comforters, who played brilliantly a week ago to defeat the Clinton Avenue cagers, turned in a poor performance, losing out 32-13 to St. Mary's. The Irish clicked in fine style to run up a 14-2 lead at the half and won easily. Babe Coughlin scored seven points to lead the winners.

The Clinton Avenue Aces continued their ragged playing, losing to Port Ewen 14-8. Deadlocked at 6 all at the half, the uptown church crew were able to score only two points in the last half. Both clubs waged a terrific defensive battle with close guarding featuring throughout. Ed Munson and Hal Ferguson scored five and four points, respectively, to lead the Port Ewen outfit. "Goggy" Boyce led the Aces with four markers.

The Redeemers finally crashed the victory column with a 44-34 win over the First Dutch. Big Sam Messenger scored 16 points to lead the Redeemers. "Beans" Haultz and Jay Dwellit scored 28 points between them for the Dutchmen. The scores:

'You Get A Thorn With Every Rose...'

QUARTERBACK HUGHES, CAPTAIN MONSKY

Hal Hughes, "Bama signal-caller, gulps as Captain Leroy Monsky, All-America guard, holds the nose. Southern look for Monsky to open holes and lead interference against the California Bears in the Rose Bowl. Hughes does most of Alabama's kicking.

By The AP Feature Service.

New York.—Whispers from the south say Alabama's fine Rose Bowl record may be in danger next New Year's Day.

Dixie football fans are blowing hot air into high hopes but, actually, they're somewhat skeptical of the Crimson Tide's ability to cope with powerful California at Pasadena. And book-makers rate California a 2-1 favorite.

No visiting team to the Rose Bowl has been able to approximate Alabama's mark of three victories and a tie. Down south, where they take their football so seriously, grid enthusiasts like to brag—modestly, of course—of the strong teams built at Alabama by Wallace Wade and, later, by Frank Thomas.

They're worried, but they take hope in the fact that football is a strange game wherein anything can happen and where past performances often count for nothing. Stanford's scoreless duel November 27 with Columbia, previously kicked about by most of the major eastern outfits, also buoyed the southerners.

The chief cause for alarm came in Alabama's last three games, which the southerners won very, very narrowly. The field goal, a weapon not generally associated with Alabama's powerhouses of the past, had to be resorted to for victories over Tulane, 9-6, and Vanderbilt, 9-7. "Sandy" Sanford, a 201-pound substitute end, booted them. A late touchdown brought a 7-0 victory over a Georgia Tech team that thoroughly outplayed Alabama but failed to obtain fortune's nod.

Casey Stengel Is Real Boston Bee

Chicago, Dec. 7 (AP)—Casey Stengel isn't so.

The inquisitive baseball veteran who will manage the Boston Nationals next season took time out today from the major league "stand-a-thon" to rip to pieces the diamond axiom: "Once a Dodger always a Dodger."

In fact, the busy Little "Bee" in Casey trampled on, tossed a few "phooeys" at and then deliberately kicked out the hotel window the Dodger ghost which has been trying to "haunt" him ever since his days of servitude with Brooklyn.

For Casey is a Boston Bee now and, his term with the Dodger defiance notwithstanding, Casey insists, "I still know when to go to bed."

Stengel, 43, stopped Tony Chavez, 131, claimant of the Mexican featherweight title, in the initial stanza of a scheduled 10-round non-championship bout.

The devastating little victors expect to clash in an outdoor show next summer with Ambers' crown at stake.

Armstrong and Ambers Victors

Cleveland, Dec. 7 (AP)—Dusky Henry Armstrong, world's champion featherweight, surveyed today an array of 25 knockout victories in his 26 encounters of the current year—but also considered the winnings ways of Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers.

The titleholders were featured in a double roundup last night on the annual Cleveland News Christmas toy fund show, which attracted 12,000 fans.

Armstrong, 134½, stopped Tony Chavez, 131, claimant of the Mexican featherweight title, in the initial stanza of a scheduled 10-round non-championship bout.

Emerson, Perry Fight Hard But Lose in Boston Tourney

Two of Kingston's pugilists gave good accounts of themselves in the All-Eastern Amateur Boxing Tournament at Boston Monday night, although they did not win.

Buddy Emerson, local lightweight, and Sergeant Charles Perry, West Point Cavalry lightweight, put up exceptionally good fights, but lost the decisions, Tommy O'Farrell reported to The Freeman.

O'Farrell, one hander sent by the Albany district of the A. A. U., drove Emerson and Perry to Boston, leaving Kingston Sunday morning.

Emerson lost to Frankie Pompanelli of Boston in one of the best fights of the night, according to O'Farrell's report, and the decision was very close.

Perry defeated Tommy Wiche of Washington and went into the semi-finals for light-heavyweights. He lost in this division to Bobbie Schwartz, another Washington boxer.

Dom Perrelli, ex-Navy boxer, fighting out of Amsterdam, was the only Adirondack A. A. U. representative to come out of the tournament with a title. He topped the bantamweight honors.

Perrelli is a brother of Matt Perrelli, who represented United States in Cuba last winter, then turned pro.

Marino Severino, representing the Adirondack featherweights, lost last night, and so did Charley Perrelli, Albany junior lightweight.

Holyoke, Mass.—Coco Kid, 142, New Haven, Conn., outpointed Teddy Lodder, 116, New York (10).

Albany, N. Y.—Indran Hurtado, 138, Panama, outpointed Joe Rovelli, 133, Albany (8).

Experience Unnecessary

He'd Never Kicked a Goal—Now Look

IT'LL BE GOOD

Nelson Bragg, who place-kicked 21 points after touchdown in 22 tries last fall, kicks as Herb Roper holds the football. Bragg and Roper teamed together on Marshall college's undefeated team. Nelson frequently boots 50 straight goals in practice.

By the AP Feature Service

Huntington, W. Va.—Nelson Bragg, one of the nation's leading kickers of points after touchdown, never had made a conversion until this season.

Bragg, 185-pound regular guard on Marshall college's Buckeye conference championship eleven, found experience was not essential and proceeded to boot 21 points from placement out of 22 tries in regular scheduled games.

He probably would have rolled up a larger total, but the Herd thundered over its combined opposition 297 points to 19 and Bragg had a lot of rest on the bench.

Coached by Cam Henderson to "keep your eye on that pumpkin," Bragg stands with his left foot planted and his kicking foot back—eliminating a step.

ious radio engagements and disposed of his newspaper in October after being reproved by Archbishop Edward Mooney of Detroit.

Federal Agent Shot
Kansas City, Dec. 7 (AP)—Henry A. Snow, Federal Bureau of Investigation, was in critical condition today from shotgun wounds received in a duel with a suspected extortionist.

Snow and other agents were concealed near a railroad embankment last night near the spot where H. B. Jacobs, 37, coal dealer at suburban Independence, said he had been ordered in a letter to "pay off $600."

Snow saw a man approach, and the shooting ensued. The suspect escaped.

An Einstein Asks Divorce
Trenton, N. J., Dec. 7 (AP)—Advisory Master Norman T. Rogers said he would sign today an order recommending a preliminary decree of divorce for Margot Marianoff, daughter of Albert Einstein, the mathematician.

Mrs. Marianoff, who lives with her father in Princeton, said her husband deserted her in Paris because he felt they were unable to live together happily and because he was unable to support her. Marianoff did not contest her suit.

Under Ice Today
Crisfield, Md., Dec. 7 (AP)—The lower business section of Crisfield was under three inches of ice today, the aftermath of an unusually high tide which flooded the waterfront section of the city yesterday.

The streets changed quickly from water to ice last night when the temperature dropped sharply.

Tried to Forgive—Now in Jail
Los Angeles, Dec. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Mary J. Nuese, 37, talented dancer of a few years ago, tried to be "broadminded" about her husband and Mrs. Mary Bishop, "just like the people in Shaw's plays, but it didn't work," she told police today.

"The whole thing sums up to this," she said. "I finally became tired of being considered more stupid than I really am."

Mrs. Nuese is in jail charged with suspicion of assault with intent to kill—specifically with beating Mrs. Bishop, a 45-year-old widow, with a bronze statuette of Venus De Milo.

$220,000 Mileage Fund
Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—Congress has authorized a $220,000 mileage fund to pay members' travel expenses to and from the special session.

There was laughter, but little opposition, when Chairman Taylor (D., Colo.) of the House appropriations committee offered the proposal yesterday as a resolution which "speaks for itself."

The House passed it, 327 to 37, and the Senate followed suit a few minutes later.

News for Some Men
Chicago, Dec. 7 (AP)—A woman let it be known today that most married American women tend to despise their husbands.

That might be no revelation for many husbands but for those in doubt Miss Agnes A. Sharp disclosed the tell-tale signs of such wifely dispositions.

The husband-despising wife betrays her secret, if it is a secret, by being slovenly in dress while in the privacy of her home, said Miss Sharp, who is assistant director of the psychiatric institute of Chicago's Municipal Court.

"And how men resent it!" she exclaimed. "They can't see why the wife, who has a larger allowance, can't dress as attractively as the office stenographer."

Mother Pleads Army Reinstates Soldier Son

The plea of Mrs. Henry L. Rosenfeld, Jr., wife of a New York broker, who said she was formerly Thals Valdemar (above) of the movies, for her 20-year-old soldier son, Paul Crawley, who left his San Francisco regiment without leave to search for her, was under consideration by army authorities. Miss Valdemar is shown in a Hollywood studio still several years ago.

New School Prospect
Chester, Pa., Dec. 7 (AP)—The new school for which Chester High School pupils struck a week ago was in prospect today.

The school board last night authorized construction of a new building to replace the present structure which student Editor John Gilman, a senior, asserted several weeks in his type-written newspaper was overcrowded.

Day Calendar For Wednesday
Unable to get a case which was ready for trial today, Justice Sydney F. Foster made up a day calendar for Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and recessed the December trial term of supreme court until that time. An attempt to make up a day calendar for today failed when but one case was announced ready, and that case was not certain for trial.

The calendar for Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when the jurors will return, as made up Monday afternoon is:

Nos. 55, 21-a and 228, 108, 160 1/2, 181, 200, 217, 238, 254 and 195.

Justice Foster said that if none of these cases were ready for trial Wednesday morning he would recess the term until the following Monday.
